May 19th for Peru School Board

"Backed by Educators. Focused on Students."

Who is she?

Laura Hathaway is backed by educators and focused on students, bringing together financial, legal, and real, hands-on experience inside our schools. As a paralegal in her firm's financial department, she works with nonprofit budgets, bookkeeping, and financial direction, ensuring systems run effectively, responsibly, and with accountability.

As a mother of two boys in the district, Laura has experienced our schools both as a parent and as a professional. Until this year, she worked directly inside the Peru school district, supporting students with diverse needs and serving in the middle school counseling office. Her experience is recent, real, and rooted in the day-to-day realities of our schools and giving her a clear understanding of what students need and earning the trust of the educators and students she worked alongside.

How she serves...

When every decision impacts students, leadership must be accountable. Laura Hathaway is a proven advocate for students, families, and the greater Peru community. Fighting for stronger support systems, safer school environments, and real accountability in how decisions are made and resources are used.

With major budget decisions, staffing challenges, and growing expectations across our district, Laura believes in responsible, transparent budgeting and leadership that is open, ethical, and accountable to the community and their right to know.

She is committed to keeping families informed, supporting educators, and ensuring every decision reflects the realities inside our schools. Building a stronger school community grounded in trust, clarity, and accountable leadership.
